

MEDIA RELEASE - 15 February 2012

SENSE OF PLACE

Image: Kate Murphy, Cry me a future (Dublin), 2006, single channel digital video, 12 minutes. Image courtesy the artist and BREENSPACE.

Sense of Place is a screening program of contemporary Australian video art, showcasing the work of 8 artists united by their investigation of cultural identity and the evolving concept of 'Australian-ness'.

Positioning the artists themselves as protagonists, characters or as self portraits, the works employ digital video not only as a documentary medium but as a tool to share stories, create and communicate histories with the wider community through the exploration of cultural propriety and social paradigms.

Featuring Kate Murphy, Justin Shoulder, Sarah Goffman, John A Douglas, Brendan Lee, Laith McGregor, Darren Sylvester, and Liam Benson, the exhibition reveals how contemporary Australian artists reflect their experiences and sensibilities in unique and fascinating ways through screen based mediums.

TOURING SCHEDULE:

Raglan Art Gallery	20 Jun 2012 - 4 Dec 2012
Broken Hill Regional Art Gallery	27 Apr 2012 - 30 Jun 2013
Casula Powerhouse & Arts Centre	27 Feb 2012 - 27 Jan 2013
Toowoomba Regional Art Gallery	28 Feb 2012 - 27 Jan 2013
Pinnacles Gallery, Townsville	7 Oct 2013 - 17 Nov 2013

A dLux MediaArts exhibition toured by Museums & Galleries NSW